Carl Mayfield was in Gainesboro Monday en route to his home at Celina. He has been attending school at Fayetteville, Tenn.

Postmaster, F. L. Tardy, informs the Sentinel that an exchange mail box will be established at the junction of Gainesboro R-4 and Granville R-1 at Flynn's Lick. Mr. Tardy received this notice last week and the service will be put into effect as soon as the box arrives. This will be a wonderful improvement over the present mail service between Gainesboro and Granville, and one that will be greatly appreciated by many of the patrons of the two routes.

The people of Gainesboro were greatly shocked early Monday morning, when the news reached town that Mrs. Josie Meadows, who lived with her son, J. W. Meadows, near Haydenburg, had disappeared. It is believed that she committed suicide by drowning, as tracks have been found leading to the Cumberland river, one foot-print was discovered in the edge of the water. Mrs. Meadows was about 60 years old and is survived by four sons and three daughters; Tom J., J. W., Bob and Clarence. Mrs. M. P. Bailey, Mrs. R. A. Montgomery and Mrs. Luke Dennis, the latter are residents of this city. Up to this time (Thursday evening) all efforts to recover the body, have been in vain.

$100 REWARD.

We will pay a reward of $100 dollars for the recovery and delivery to us of the body of our mother, Mrs. Josie Meadows, who is supposed to have drowned in Cumberland river at the mouth of Hensley creek, Jackson county, on the night of May, 12th, 1919.

The closing exercises of the Jackson County High School will be held next Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights. Special programs have been prepared for each night by the various grades of the school. The public is invited to attend.

Alamo Electric Light plants have been installed by McDearman-Stafford Co., in their business house, F. L. Tardy in the Victory Hotel, and W. M. Draper in his residence. This is one of the best electric light plants made, and they are proving satisfactory in every way.

Misses Mattie and Willie Hampton went to Double Springs Thursday where they attended the burial of their aunt, Mrs. Lans Robbins, who died Wednesday at 1 o'clock. She was in her 90th year and is survived by her husband and several children.

Mrs. W. F. Overall, of Murfreesboro, was the week-end guest of her daughter, Mrs. George Henry Lynch. She was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Harrell and little daughter. Mr. and Mrs. Lynch accompanied them to Murfreesboro Sunday afternoon, and came back Tuesday.

Harley Richardson, who has been in a hospital at Ft. McPherson since his arrival from overseas several months ago, came in last week, and is at his home near Haydenburg. Mr. Richardson left Gainesboro Sept. 1917 and entered training at Olgethlope. He was a member of the 117th infantry, and was severely wounded in the arm, leg and head while in action on the Hidenburg line. He will have to return to the hospital in about 30 days to undergo an operation.

FOR SALE—First class Soy beans, $2.75 per bushel. Call or see W. H. Dudley, Gainesboro.

MYER

"Lucky Corner"

CARTHAGE, TENNESSEE

SATURDAY, MAY 17, '19

At 1 P. M. Rain or Shine.

The Myer "lucky corner" at Carthage, where the old successful Myer general store stood for nearly half a century.

This corner has carried the leading store on the Upper Cumberland for more one hundred years.

Four fair-sized country fortunes have been made by stores on this old corner.

The Myer store descended from father to son. W. E. Myer retired from business.

This store has been in existence fifty-seven years, forty-five years on the old "lucky corner."

Since its destruction by fire there is a real demand, because no similar store has risen to take its place.

Hundreds of old and loyal customers who have traded with this store all of their lives, and whose fathers before them traded here, can easily be held by men worthy.

This good will of a fine and loyal body of men will be a great aid to those taking the place of the Myer store on this corner.

The chance of a lifetime for honest and ambitious merchants.

The people are forced to send elsewhere for many of their everyday needs, because unable to supply them at home. This county is rich and prosperous. It is the sixth richest county in the State. Yet, since the burning of the old Myer store, there is not a single general store in Carthage, the county seat, carrying good and sufficient assortments of dry goods, clothing, shoes, hardware, groceries, furniture, stoves, etc., and there are only two stores carrying dry goods, clothing, shoes, etc., and only carrying hardware, furniture, groceries, notions.

Since the fire there is urgent need

For several stores carrying the common, everyday needs of the community.

For strictly retail grocery stores (there is only one strictly retail grocery store in the town)

For a modern well located up-to-date garage.

For a butcher.

For a restaurant.

For a wholesale grocery.

Carthage is not a cut-throat town. Merchants are fair to each other and make good profits.

Things have changed at Carthage.

An enormous amount of money is paid at Carthage for farm products. For example, one loose leaf tobacco warehouse alone has paid out to local farmers in the past four months over $600,000 for tobacco. Two produce houses, a spoke works, and a large tobacco factory also pay out large salaries.

This money is poured out at the very doors of our merchants. Live stores can legitimately land a large amount of this money.

This Myer lot is situated on the corner of the public square and Spring Street, and is divided into several building sites on the public square and many cheaper building sites on Spring street. The Spring street sites are specially adapted to garages, retail groceries, restaurants and wholesale groceries.

Carthage has advantage of towns in this section in extra low competitive freight rates, because it is on both rail and river. Carthage is the head town of year-round slack water navigation on Cumberland river. No other competitive town above Carthage has these advantages. Carthage is a day and night electric light town. Electric current is sold manufacturers cheaper than steam or gasoline. The town is the seat of a fine County High School.

Famous Home of W. E. Myer Also to be Sold.

At the same time I will sell at auction my beautiful 11 room dwelling in Carthage and two fine building lots adjoining the dwelling. Has large lawn, twelve acres of ground, lots of big shade trees and beautiful flowers. (If you are a lover of nature, here on your own lot you will have hickory nuts, black walnuts, persimmons, mulberries, English walnuts, many kinds of berries, grapes of several varieties, a good bearing orchard, and another young orchard coming on.)

Plenty of room for your own cows, pigs, horses and chickens, in the heart of an up-to-date town.

A cistern as large as two ordinary cisterns. Two never failing wells. Two good wind mills, a water tank large enough for a small town, water piped all over the house, yard, garden and every lot on the place.

Hot and cold water, bath room and toilet.

House lighted by electricity and heated by large furnace; an absolutely fire-proof room 20x20 feet, for the things you value highest. Speaking tubes all over the house; a large sleeping porch.

This dwelling site was selected because it commands one of the most beautiful views in America.

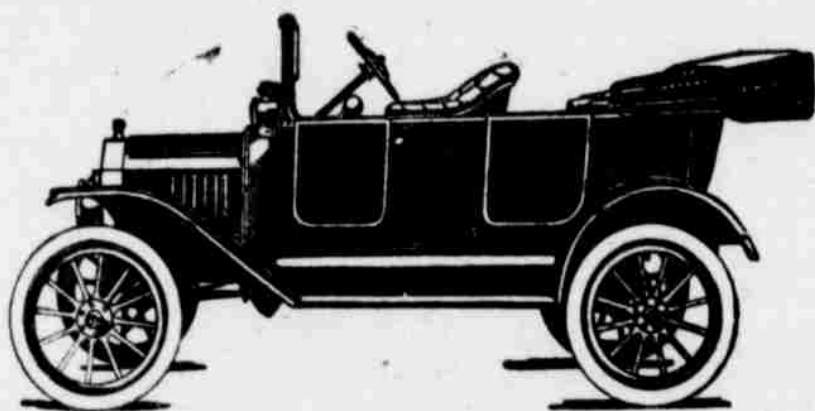

It is a sure enough real home, and such homes are not often on the market. Our son has moved to New York, and we want to be with him.

You can reach Carthage by Tennessee Central Railroad at noon, attend sale at 1 o'clock P. M., and return on the 4:30 P. M. train. TERMS, one-third cash, balance in one, two and three years.
